Foreword

... The game is over. The team may not have won, but several thousand fans shout their support from the stands. Suddenly the noise of the crowd fades, and Knights rise for the proud, solemn singing of the Alma Mater: "... Our love will be your glory ..."

... It's 3:30. Three thousand students are suddenly in a hurry as they flash-flood out the main doors. Nearing the exits, the mass abruptly parts, catefully sidestepping the marble-tiled Knight's Head in the center of the floor . . .

at the teacher. She nods, and they file out. No bell rings . . .

As the "new school" atmosphere dissolves, Northwest Classen settles into a regular pattern. We now cherish the traditions established in our earlier years, and in these traditions we find the unifying force which gives NWC its character. We now have a past, and while it would be pushing the point to speak of defending the honor of our "forefathers," we do sense our obligation to those who have gone before us, blazing the trail, to ever wear with dignity "The Emblem of Prond Knighthood ..."

November 22, when President Kennedy was assassinated, Knights joined their fellow Americans in a thirty-day mourning period. Northwest Classen's flag was lowered to half must on that tragic, fateful day.

The long-awaited $281,989 addition makes the beautiful N.W.C. campus even more impressive.

Beauty of Northwest's Campus Inspires

Seen from across the patio, the new wing seems already a customary part of the school.

A crate-shaped bulk of concrete and steel stands void, unmoving. Rows of identical bricks stacked purposelessly enclose expanses of impersonal stone corridors. The building is a lifeless vacuum.

Without her people Northwest Classen has no character, no personality, but each person who comes in contact with the school contributes a part of himself to her identity:

... The swaggering senior boy with polished Cordovans and a slouch to his walk.

. . . The frosted-haired cheerleader, always in the glare of the spotlight, smiling, cheering, setting examples.

The quiet, unnoticed girl in your English class who never speaks, but occasionally glances shyly at you.

Spells Success in Uniform Drive

Nine years of existence have weathered the blatant gold of NWC's brick. They have worn barely perceptible traces in the rigid marble steps and caused the paint to crack a little

But these years have also meant achievement—the building of a widespread reputation of accomplishment, so that the name "Northwest Classen" is spoken with pride and heard with respect

Never satisfied with the easily attainable, Knights have always reached out for that "something better," only achieved by the persevering. The state and national honors received each year by NWC students surprise none of us; we do no less than our best, and we expect the same of others. When we fail, we know it was not because we didn't make every effort to succeed

A spirit of unity is often the motivating force for North west Classen students, whether it be in the enthusiastic turor of a cheering section, or the quiet pride of reading "North west Classen" in the newspaper

Northwest boasts the nation's largest PTSA group, 89 1% student support of the publications program, and 673 initial "drops," denoting twice that many "steadies

The strength of this "togetherness" was displayed admirably last year in the month long drive for new band uniforms which netted over $12,000 in the largest-scale money-raising campaign in school history

Oklahoma City's schools are able to maintain their high standards because of the unseltish dedication of the members of the School Board who serve without pay. On them falls the responsibility of governing the city school system.

They must be capable of recognizing needs and making decisions that keep the schools in competition with the best. They, too, are the deciding factor in the establishment of new teaching methods, new courses to be offered, or in adding a new school to Oklahoma City's expanding educational program

The five board members, elected by school patrons, include a housewife, attorney, industrialist, experimental farm superintendent and banker

Four of the members are elected for four-year terms; the other one is a member-at-large, who serves two years

Drivers Education covers driving laws, cause and the critical of accidents, and proper attitude towards their rivers. This year an additional car was added full-time, making NWC a two rischool.

Students drive three hours behind the wheel, take thirty hours of classroom work, and twelve hours in the Drivo trainers

Police records show that teenage drivers who have taken a one-semester course, such as the one offered here, have fewer accidents and pay fewer fines tor traffic infractions than the youthful driver without such training

Lives in Its Students

Learning . . . Laughter . . . Loyalty

Most Northwest Classen students recognize the disadvantages of attending a large high school. The classes are crowded, competition is stiff. Just when you think you know everyone, you walk to class a different way and are confronted by a crowd of total strangers. There is never quite enough room for everyone in assemblies, and you re-forced to scout for parking places. Some days the long lines in the cateteria are downright discouraging

Yet for the three thousand students who make their way here daily from several miles in all directions. Northwest Classen is a way of life. In the crowded halls and quiet class rooms is found a fremendous diversity of backgrounds, per sonalities, ideas. Students gravitate toward others who share

A Way of Life

portunity for exploration. You were conjugate oall are missed them

Because of its size, Northwest can ofter than ad antiqueses et elle it facilities, such as modern equipment and its also a high caliber facility and course no state. It is week varied curriculum, which includes by the second and so less preparatory training.

And, paradoxically, there is a reser teering of unity, loyalty, purpose Students feel they are part of sor ething significant, more than quetasor, of

Stark steel fra es and thick far some diew interested onlookers during the mostles of construct on the new action

One word aptly describes the manner in which Northwest Classes students carry out any undertaking, intense We are never content merely to do something, nor even to do it well, it must be record breaking, superlative, the best

Knights have come to expect success because years of consistent achievement have made it almost traditional. The first four classes set the standards for us to follow, and they set them high. Few can remember when our cheerleaders were not state champions. The band and the vocal music department consistently bring home top honors from contests, as do our debaters and speakers. NWC has won the Alf-Sports Trophy for four consecutive years, and has established a reputation of excellence in athletics. But even when we lose we display superlative sportsmanship.

In the scholastic area we take our work still more seriously. The idea that intellectual awareness is socially unacceptable is as passe as peny tails and the bop. We strive to learn and good grades are difficult to come by. Because of rigorous academic competition, a student with a very respectable 3.5 average may not even be in the upper ten per cent of his class.

This record of accomplishment, however, is only the by product of a deep, driving motivation, almost urgency, which compels us to move forward. Why this intensity, this single ness of purpose? Is it only the ambitious idealism of youth? Perhaps. But we consider it rather a mark of the times, the characteristic of a generation forced to set its own goals and standards, a blending of idealistic visionaries and cold, hard materialists, unafraid of self-assertion, bent on achievement

Degree of Excellence Acquired by Teamwork

Few students realize the many details of planning which interlock to produce results. For the simplest activity, arrangements must be made to take care of each important trifle

Who sets up the risers for the chorus? Who orders the cokes? How does it happen that Knights accomplish so much with a minimum of confusion? Teamwork. We work together to achieve

Philosophy of 'Newness' Expressed by Students

The future is a very real thing to Northwest Classen students. Our world is three-dimensional, the past provides experience, the present lives opportunity to accomplish; the future represents our soils.

We are tomorrow-minded, partly because of the atmosphere in which we live Oklahema City is a young town where things are clean-lined and new, and her people are not satisfied to stand so. The influence of new industries and the desire to new has made citizens aware of their world and has given us a reputation for progressive ichevement.

Northwest has a the center of this battleeround of new ideas. The school building itself is one and sunny and still expanding, but the important evidence of this philosophy of newness" is seen in student life.

Many school elections are executed by voting machine, preparing students for actual voting as adults. Every student is identified by an IBM card, and grades are recorded by machine.

The school has established firm contacts with the community, fulfill g in responsibilities. Annually we support Red Cross United head Toxs for Tots, and Salvation Army through selectors and contributions. The student body donated $1000 toward the proposed municipal theater.

Recognizing scholastic achievement is a prime consideration among Knights and Ladies of Northwest Classen, whether student or taculty member. Under direction of Mr. W. H. Taylor, first principal, the founding faculty established ten awards to be known as THF FACULTY AWARDS. These represent appreciation of student devotion, service, sacrifice leadership, and achievement.

Departmental awards are given by departments in recognition of excellence and achievement in specialized skir's and subjects. These awards were presented in the second awards assembly on May 5

Another High School Red Cross Service Project: The annual sock tree

Services Performed

Each of NWC's 94 advisories is represented in the two monthly meetings of the High School Red Cross. With proceeds from the two donut sides held during the school year, enrollment cards for all students are secured.

This year two hundred twenty one pairs of socks were obtained from the sock tree for distribution to needy children Located in the library, this sock tree has become a tradition at Northwest Classen. Kaethe Reiff was in charge of this project.

Red Cross members furnished and decorated Christmas trees at the Veterans Administration and Children's Memorial Hospitals. A promport carolers visited shut instand hospitals. Senior Beverly Reynolds heads a committee which provides service to homebound students. Red Cross volunteers visit the homebound to help them keep in touch with the school, Shields are regularly taken to these students.

A gift chest, filled with school and health supplies, is sent overseas each year at Christmas time. Marcy Eigin serves as this year's gift chest chairman

Several representatives from NWC's Red Cross chapter have donated time to the Motor Service Corps, where they drive Red Cross vehicles

He reports to Mr. Platt promptly at 7 5 1 cm, each morning for class, attends special rehearsals before every performance and often takes private lessons to maintain the excellence required.

For the fourth consecutive year, Cryslurs officially opened the Christmas season at Penn Square. They appeared at the Northwest Kiwanis club Christmas banquet

Following a performance at the State Capitol building, Dr Oliver Hodge, state superintendent of schools, declared that Cryslurs compare with the best in our colleges and universities.

Ann Lee, sophomore, Diane Kennike senior, and Stan Davis junior, took top honors in competition with four hundred vocalists from seven states.

Last September, Cryslurs circled early summer dates on their calendars for their long awaited sing of teur of Colorado Springs. With a $2000 goal, musicians worked differ by to earn money for the trip

Court Jesters, Pep Council, Coordinate Clubs

Composed of the four pep club presidents, their sponsors, and one other representative from each club, the Pep Council coordinates the efforts of the pep clubs in establishing and maintaining school spirit and good sportsmanship

After careful screening by the pep clubs and student body the school's head cheerleader is finally selected by pep council members

Court Jesters was organized by the cheerleaders to promote better cooperation between pep clubs and cheerleaders

Through extended practice, girls gain a thorough understanding of the school yells

Members interested in becoming chetrleaders are schooled in techniques of crowd control. Three girls are chosen by Court lesters every two months to lead cheers at B and C squad limes

Each year the group presents a Spirit Award to the student who did the most during the year to promote sportsmanship and uphold school spirit

Future Promising for Upcoming Teams

Comprised of sophomores and juntors, the B-Squad, under new coach Wayne Goodman, finished the season with a 6-3 record Their biggest victory was over the Dunjee "A" squad, 34-12 Dunjee, in class 8-B, won its conference championship

Baxter Case and Jack Skaggs were top backs and the line was anchored by Tom Killup and Eddie Blalock. Jim Stacy and Jerry Huddleston were outstanding on detense.

During the season, the B squad piled up an impressive figure in statistics. In the course of the season they scored 173 points to 88 for their opponents

The C-squad, under the direction of coaches C. D. Carpenter and Phil Harriss, finished the 63 season with an impressive record of 9-1

This was the second straight year that the freshmen brought the "Best Team in the City" award to Northwest. This was also the second time in school history that an eighth grader made first string C-squad. Taft Junior High student Mark Ackerman drew this distinguished honor

With the aid of Steve Lowell, high scorer, and Jim Swartzendruber, the Knights ran over all but one of their opponents. The exception was the Douglass Trojans' C-squad, who edged the Knights by a margin of 14-8

The Cross Country team ended the season with a record of two wins in their dual and triangular meets. Coach Leonard Marcotte's Knights had won the Mid-State crown four years in a row and this year seemed destined to repeat this performance. But with the Knights' top runner, Chris Randall, sidelined for most of the season with shin splints, they were unable to capture first place; they took second behind Putnam City

Swimmers Take Third Conference Title

Mid State championship for the third straight year was claimed by Knight swimmers, scoring 88 points in their final competition. Junior Dave Whytlaw took first in two events, diving and 400 yard freestyle; Joe Millar was tops in the 100 yard freestyle; and the relay team swam to victory

Although Northwest won five and lost five dual meets, and came out behind Harding in the City meet, they set two records. Joe Millar swam the 100 yard freestyle in a record breaking time of 55.2, and the freestyle relay team, composed of Mark M.Gee, Gene Smith, Jack Thomas, and anchorman Millar, broke a city record of 1.41.3 which they had set last year, their new time is 1.40.9

Dave Whytlaw contributed substantially to his team's standing, taking first in both City and Mid-State in diving and the 400 yard freestyle

Dropping their first two meets to Harding 64-31, and Tulsa Memorial, 65-30. Knights met their first conference foe, U. S. Grant, and walloped them, 63-32

An outclassed Capitol Hill team was left in the Knight's wake 84-10 Next, the Trojans of Douglass were drowned in harrage of first places by NWC swimmers, leaving the victors 3-0 in conference meets

Knights were stopped by perennially tough Ponca City 54 40 before being subdued by John Marshall 47 38

Midwest City proved a little tougher than previous Mid-State foes, but NWC managed another win, 52-43, before Harding swam past them 69-26. The last meet with Enid on the regular schedule featured outstanding team effort, and the Knights defeated the Plainsmen 50-45.

Depth of the Knight team was too much for the rest of the field in the final Mid State meet as top performances were turned in by seniors swimming for the Knights for the last time. Thomas, Millar, McGee, and Stan Rathjen

NW Sportswomen Record Banner Year in Sports

Sportswomen recorded a banner year by producing a district championship softball team as well as setting city records in swin meets

Coach Nancy Pierson's softball team opened its season by overwhelming John Marshall, Classen, and Harding by scores of 17-7, 15-0, and 26-6, respectively

The team's success was due mainly to exceptional pitching by Ellen Howard and leading hitters Dianiu Busch. Sus e Phillip, Kris Harry, Linda Myers and Vickie Norick Double plays, home runs, and an alert infield contributed considerably.

An inexperienced volleyball team won but three games; Marcia Clark received the game's outstanding award for her skill and spyrtsmanship.

Splitting an eight game schedule with four wins and four losses. NWC's bashaball team defeated Classon Southeast, Capital Hill, and Conral Mainstays in basketball, as in volley ball, were Kris, Marcia, Linda, and Susie. Other letterwomen included Dianne Busch, Rena McCoy, Mary Lou Smith, and Judy Just Kris was selected outstanding player.

Swimmers splashed to top ratings under the supervision of Coach Margie Smith Cindy Green set a new record when she won first place in city competition in the breaststroke. The 100 yard medley relay team, composed of Sherry Sheehan, Jeanie Thornton, Sharon and Cindy Green, also broke city records as the team amassed 65 points; Hardin, placed second with 42 points.

Other first place winners included the 100 yard freestyle relay team. Sharon Green was awarded the medal for being the outstanding swimmer in the city meet.

Squires Face Future With Courage and Vision

We, the class of '65, standing midway on the path to Knight hood, embrace the past with fond remembrace in the Circumstance with Indiana. We how two with pride or not a hieve ments and gaze forward with anticipat in the lefty he obts of Knighthood as we advance toward its shining light.

Climbing the trail blazed by Knights and we coept eagerly their hallenge to carry on the emblem of proud Knighthood is her have done with victors and honor

It can only be in the distant future that we forget the emotors of our jumor year—the pride in our organizations and a track which executed. I pist years in the school's history the indignation when the fountain head we had learned to berish and respect was disfigured by the colors of a rival school—our class sport which soared over the defeat of the confident seniors in the Ir Sr Girls' Football game and remained high even when the number of varsity defeats outnumbered the victories—and the disbelief and sorrow over the trace issassination of our beloved President John F. Kennedy whilse outlands of the toward world peace and whose married death renewed our scal to finish the task he set for us

Our bewilder near at a tissing the National Merits was soon or risk towed by the excitement over long awaited class risks and the promain which we took so much pride in planning for the second tisting as position as our friends were elected to slaces of leakership to the coming year. Our year

Whithe posen of the sword pass so comby the traditions and froms of he post but the responsibilities and goals of the future

With laters and vision is therited from our predecessors, we the Squares of tiday have grown in this tradition of Knight bood with years come the Kingleton of concrew

THE EMBLEM OF PROUD KNIGHTHOOD

Terrve Newkirk

Lost among the fragile dreams of youth,

We hardly note the steady beat of time,

But vainly chase the night's elusive truth,

Acting out illusion's pantomime.

Careless of the falling crystal hours,

We catch at wispy veils of Love and Hate,

And glancing at contentment's sequined flowers,

Are lashed by undiscriminating Fate.

As gold and purple pawns upon the board,
We play at Life's surprising game of chess,
Charging with imaginary sword
The flighty, silver phantom of success.

But when the mad confusion disappears,

We shall preserve the emblem of these years.

Dear Knights,

From idea to book is a long way, and few students realize how far it is until they actually work on a yearbook.

Last fall the Round Table staff decided that this book should try to do two things: record a complete, accurate history of the year and express the students' deep respect for Northwest Classen in the theme, Emblem of Proud Knighthood

For the first time, the Round Table will include a sixteen page summer supplement covering spring sports and graduation activities. It will be mailed directly to the students from the publisher soon after July 1.

It would be impossible to acknowledge all the willing assistance we have received in producing this book. We wish to express special thanks to Principal J. Frank Malone, who was always helpful and understanding when we went to him with problems, Mr. Barclay Curtis, our consultant with the Taylor Publishing Company, the Wagner Studio, Curtis Studio, A. Y. Owen, freelance photographer, Mrs. Walter L. Sutton of Meyers Photo Shop, and Mrs. Howard Lamb, who provided shelter and encouragement for staff members.

But most of all we thank the 3,000 students of Northwest Classen for making the Round Table possible.

Sincerely,

Alice Hiniker Jennifer Lamb

All-Sports Trophy Award to NWC

Coach Davis and Rick Simon take infield warmup before the Capitol Hill game.

Ending a sparkling baseball campaign with a second place finish in state championship playoffs for Class AA schools, one of the strongest squads in school history finished the season with an 18-7 record and championships in the Mid-State Conference, Class AA Regionals, and Oklahoma Christian College Tournament.

The Mid-State All-Sports trophy was cinched for NWC for the fifth time out of the six times it has been presented. Putnam City won it in 1960.

Senior Jim Hays was selected for the All-State team, while Hays, Rick Simon, and Bill Grimes were named to the All-City team.

In the state championship game, the Knights were defeated for the third time this season by Lawton 4-1. Pitcher Gray Atkins held the Wolverines scoreless until the third inning when a triple and a sacrifice fly scored a run for Lawton; they scored again in the fifth and twice in the eighth innings. The Knights scored their lone run on a triple by Jim Hays and a wild pitch. Allen Eaker broke up Lawton pitcher David Frost's no-hitter in the seventh with a single.

In the semifinal game, Bill Grimes struck out 16 and walked only one against the Tulsa Central Braves as the Knights won 4-0.

NWC finished 10-4 in conference competition. Opening the season with a 14-1 win over tough Capitol Hill proved that the Knights were going to be rough to beat. They followed suit by trouncing Douglass 9-0 with Jack Givens throwing a one-hitter.

A close victory over Grant put the Knights in the finals of the Regionals where they defeated the John Marshall Bears for the third time. This game featured a pitchers' duel between Bill Grimes and the Bears' Bill Dobbs.

Tom Melton, senior sprint star, crosses the finish line ahead of the Norman anchorman to win the City Invitational Track Meet.

Field Events Prove

Knight tracksters set three records, one unofficial, and equalled one during the course of the season.

Tom Melton set two individual records, 50.1 at the Norman Invitational Meet and 50.4 at the Central State Relays. The mile relayers, John Anderson, Alan Lukehart, Chris Randall, and Melton, set a new meet record at Central State of 3:25.1 and at the City Invitational of 3:24.2. An unofficial record of 3:24.2 was clocked during the Mid-State meet, while Joe Rankin and Bob Welch tied the conference record in the pole vault at 12 feet.

Nine returning lettermen: Rod Browning, Jim Fowler, Dennis Keim, Roger Kise, Alan Lukehart, Johnny Marsh, Tom Melton, Chris Randall, and Paul Smith added strength to Coach Rex Irwin's team. Additional support came from freshmen and sophomores.

Outstanding times clocked this year came in the 880-relay with times of 1:30.3 at Central State and 1:31.8 at the City Invitational. Melton also ran the 440 in 49.9 at Mid-State and 50.1 at the Norman Invitational. Melton qualified for the State Meet but failed to place as a result of a cramped calf muscle.

Proudly displaying the three trophies won at the Oklahoma City Invitational meet are the members of both relay teams: Chris Randall, Alan Lukehart, Tom Melton, Coach Rex Irwin, John Bado, Jim Fowler, and Willard Woods.

Straining on the first curve to get an edge on their opponents are Chris Randall and Tom Melton.
